Positives:

- The page immediately shows purpose giving users instant access to discover and join volunteering events near them.
- The navigation is simple and straightforward with clearly labelled sections.
- The website title colour is a different to the rest of the website making it stand out.
- The join CauseConnect button has a different contrast to the website colour encouraging users to interact with it.
- The event listening is well organized, with each event having its own card and being easy to see the contents
- Events filter option, the ability to filter events by "recommended" and "trending" is a great way to help the user find a event they like quickly.

Areas to improve:

- I feel like the events listing is too long, it should have less rows, as there is a see more button it wont ruin the users experience.
- The images are nice and cool, but they don't really represent what your website is about.
- There isn't much information on the home page about the website and company and what they do, and maybe even what kind of impact they have done to make the user want to join.